Describe Why You are Interested in this Board:

I wish to serve on this committee because I would get to extend my knowledge and background to the Brookings community that would help me educate and better understand the complex world of human rights. My passions are those of the committee's, in wanting to better the human condition; and that comes through being able to acknowledge the various cultures and backgrounds and overall differences we have as people.

Amount of Time Available:

I work full time but have flexible hours.

List Any Relevant Educational Experience:

I have my degrees in philosophy, political science, and writing.

I was an intern for a year for a non-profit called Zero Zero; it is an organization that runs an albino orphanage in Tanzania.

Hosted several events pertaining to human rights and cultural differences at my university.
