they now owned the land. Arjan Blok noted that they had reached an agreement with neighbors and included it in the purchase agreement that only 12 animals could be located on the property. Haugen clarified, "it was mentioned that a replat be required, but Brookings County does not require platting of property. A footage description is a legal description and accepted by the Register of Deeds." Bartley noted that requirements were met and he had no problem passing the request. A member of the audience questioned making a comment. Ford and Haugen announced that the public hearing portion had occurred at the prior meeting on July 7, 2020 and had been closed at that meeting. The meeting had been tabled to allow for the board to gather more information, which had been gathered and ask any more questions of the applicant. Bartley added, "The public hearing has been closed, that is correct, at this point it is commission questions." He addressed Ms. Blok to confirm that the purchase agreement stated a limit of animals. Not an agreement with the neighbors. Findings of Facts were reviewed and completed by the board and placed on file.

PUBLIC HEARING: Applicant Robert Winter informed those present he had nothing further to add Haugen's report.

Concerns voiced were: 1) Weeds and poor control adversely affecting neighboring land. 2) Concerns with truck traffic and causing road issues. Haugen noted and read thru calls, emails and letters that had been received from: Pamela Telkamp, Lisa Telkamp-Castro and Leona Telkamp. Items had been placed online and filed.

DISCUSSION: Davis asked: 1) who was currently operating the gravel pit? 2) If the location of proposed cement plant could be moved to a different area of the existing gravel pit? 3) Question of dust during processing. Robert Winter noted he and his brother each operated 1/2 of the pit. The proposed cement plant was planned to be centrally located but could be moved on the other side (west side) of road coming into the pit and dust collectors were used, and no dust escaped. Winter asked to address road concern noting that current traffic on 473rd was high due to the area roads being closed going thru town so L.G. Everist and Bowes were also using the road more. Bartley noted that if 20th Street overpass gets constructed truck traffic will greatly lessen.
